Hi All!

Attached you will see a small package which includes the map for the 2nd round of painting, the artists designs and images of the boxes as they are now.

Johnie Thornton and Alex Kube are scheduled to paint and complete their boxes the weekend of March 18th. As mentioned, I will be taking photos and video documenting their process as well as a standard before and after image.

I visited the boxes the other day and it looks as though they are in great condition and need little to no maintenance before the painting starts.

As for Paige Emery's box on Magnolia and Lankershim- She will be returning to the box shortly to paint the spots that were left empty, as we discussed.

Please let me know if there are any questions or concerns, otherwise I will touch base immediately after the painting with images and followup. Thanks!
